

Mrs Emma Kelley BA (Hons) PGCE FE, HE and Adult Education.

I am a graduate of Politics with a Post Graduate Certificate in Education specialising in the post 16 sector. I spent 10 years in the Education sector, the most recent as a Head of Subject for History and as a member of the Senior Leadership Team for Pastoral Care at a Sixth Form College in Hull. Previous to this I was A2 History lead at Farnborough Sixth form College where I also delivered seminars for The Schools History Project and published works on ideas for better A Level teaching. In the last 5 years, I have raised two children but kept within Education by running community play groups and, during our last posting, working for an MOD school in the Falklands as a Teaching Assistant.

I currently reside in Episkopi with my family and my husband is the serving member. My youngest child attends Episkopi Primary School and my eldest boards in the UK.
